'round town

with Betty Allen...

In the local theater the other evening, we stared like everything at President Harry Truman in the newsreel, and sure enough, there is a decided resemblance between him and Campbell Hardware man, Joseph Agostinho.

Speaking of the local theater, did you know that the seat slashing, prevalent all over the country in movie houses, is still continuing here? Manager Kimball has about seventeen to repair each day. Sometimes the entire seat covering is removed, cut in strips and sold to bootblacks in San Jose, he says.

Bud Levenberg is limping around with a knee injury which is serious enough to keep him from working (and that is serious), but he is very mysterious as to how it happened. He just mutters darkly about "hardwood floors".

The recent announcement of a proposed $85,000 postoffice for Campbell as a part of a Federal building program now pending before Congress seems a little confusing inasmuch as bids are now on file for a building to be erected and leased to the Post Office. An $85,000 building would certainly be dazzling on Campbell Avenue, wouldn't it?

It was good to learn from the local dehydrator plant that what Californians laughingly call "a rain" did no harm to the drying fruit last weekend.

At this stage of the painting of the Campbell Water Company tank, the structure resembles a wierd animal with spotted leopard legs. It's going to be gorgeous when finished, tho.

An army friend who edits the "Rainbow Reville" 'in Germany writes an interesting sidelight on General Dwight Eisenhower. The amazing elevator at Berchtesgaden which runs up to the top of the Eagle's nest was posted with a sign reserving the luxurious conveyance which is lined with leather benches for officers of major or over, army nurses and Wacs. When "Ike" visited the famous place along with other eager sightseers he ordered the sign removed and there is a new one up which says "This elevator accomodates 27 persons per convoy. First come, first served". Now the G. I.s are free to ride in it while many a colonel goes puffing up the 15-minute circuitous climb.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Solomon have recently sold the Cambrian Filling Station on the San Jose-Los Gatos road to Jay and Leo Parks, Campbell. The station will be managed by Leo Parks who has recently received a discharge from the service.

A son of the Solomon's, Fireman 1/c Robert Solomon, U. S. N., arrived last week for a short leave which he spent with his parents. He is stationed on the U. S. S. Salaumaui which recently brought home a large group of dischargees.

School Principals Attend Annual Conference

Accompanied by Raymond J. Fisher, superintendent of the elementary schools in Los Gatos, Campbell's two school principals, James Dent and William Henley, attended the annual conference of City, County and District Superintendents at Sacramento last week.

They report that many practical problems were studied including world attitudes in social studies and methods of inculcating them together with curricular studies placing special emphasis on arithmetic.

Heading the list of speakers for the occasion was Governor Earl Warren. "California should never be satisfied until it has the best school system in the United States," he told the 500 educators gathered there.

Among the other speakers were Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, provost of the University of California at Los Angeles; Walter F. Dexter, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Robert Sproul, president of the University of California, who told of his experiences in Germany and Russia as a member of the Reparations Committee.

Of interest to the teachers was a conducted tour of Sacramento's historical spots which included a visit to the famous "Sutter's Fort".

National Fire Prevention Week

This is Fire Prevention Week. Rural families are reminded by Woodbridge Metcalf, agricultural extension forester in the University of California, that this is an appropriate time to appraise the major hazards and take preventive measures against them.

Last year a disastrous farm fire occurred somewhere in the nation every 15 minutes, Metcalf said, adding that 85 per cent of such fires are preventable nad traceable to one or more of the following hazards: defective, soty and poorly constructed chimneys; sparks from chimneys and bonfires falling on flammable wooden roofs; defective stoves and furnaces and failure to use fireprof covering on pipes; careless use of matches and smoking in barns; improper storage and careless use of gasoline and kerosent hot ashes placed in paper or wooden containers rather than metal; spontaneous ignition of hay; and misuse of electricity and failure to replace or repair worn cords and defective electrical appliances.

Apprentice Seaman Richard David Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Jones of 301 S. 1st street, Campbell, was an honored guest Saturday evening, October 6, when the Associated Students of Occidental College sponsored a "bon voyage ball" in farewell to members of the Navy V-12 unit whose station on the campus will be completed this month.

Seaman Jones was graduated from Abe Lincoln High School, where he was active in dramatic, forensic, journalistic, and musical affairs. He was also a member of the Chemistry Club and president of the Honor Society.

At Occidental College he is a pre-medical student, and resides in Wylie Hall, one of the men's residences occupied by the Navy.

Dr. Merrill To Retire Nov. 1st

After 34 years, almost to the day, of practice in Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Merrill will leave to make their home in Southern California. Their home and Dr. Merrill's practice has been sold to Lieut. Comdr. Paul D. Werthmann, now stationed at Moffett Field.

The new Campbell physician expects to be released from the Navy this month and will arrive with his wife and two sons around the 1st of November. Before entering the service five years ago, he practiced for nine years in the San Joaquin valley. Twenty-seven months of his Navy service was spent in base hospitals in the Pacific theater.

The Merrills arrived in Campbell November 5, 1911, and will leave November 1, 1945, to start out on a six months' trip before settling in the South.

Butane Explosion Destroys Home

An early inkling of the tragedy which occurred on Harriett road Tuesday morning was given Campbell when a telephone call requesting the Campbell fire department came. Since the location was outside the Campbell district this department could not respond to the blaze caused by escaping butane which exploded and destroyed the home of Ernest M. Patton after Calvin S. Rix had either died or become u nconscious from a heart attack while filling a tank there.

State Forester George Britton, Alma, who fought the blaze with a State Forestry fire crew, said that the house was a blaznig inferno when he arrived, but he and his crew managed to save the other buildings.

Mrs. R. T. Rohde and another neighbor dragged Rix away from the fire and an ambulance rushed him to the County Hospital where he was pronounced dead upon arrival. He was an employe of the Rural Gas Service, Burbank, and is survived by his wife Margaret, San Jose.

J. M. Dahl, long-time Campbell real estate and insurance man, who has had offices in the Curry Building, will move during the month of October to the premises formerly occupied by Louise's Beauty Salon at 88 W. Campbell avenue. This is situated between the I. O. O. F. Building and L. E. Garcia's Plumbing and Heating Company.

Remodelling plans include bringing the front of the structure out flush with the sidewalk which will materially increase the space in the building.

Lois Bohnett, WAC member of the 2nd Signal Service Battalion from Campbell, has been promoted to sergeant. She is now stationed in Washington, D. C., and expects to be there for some months.

Corp. Vernon C. Reed, brother of Mrs. C. L. Hansey, N. Winchester road, was flown from the Philippine Island last week aboard the flying ship "Bataan" to attend the funeral of his father, William Mansel Reed, who died in San Jose September 29. The corporal is a recently liberated prisoner of war. His brother, Lieut. Mansel Reed, died last year in a prison camp near Manila.

Mr. and Mrs. John Den Beeman and Gerry Den Beeman have purchased a 12-acre orchard on the San Jose-Los Gatos road from Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Trask.

National Future Farmer Week Observed Oct. 9th

Now in their eighteenth year, the Future Farmers of America observed National Future Farmer Day on Tuesday, October 9th. The local chapter, No. 126 of the California association, was organized in 1933 by Mr. C. E. York.

This year the chapter has 35 members, the largest membership since 1941. The officers are: Lawrence Groteguth, president; Bob Ostien, vice-president; Richard Savoni, treasurer; Maurice Hoyt, secretary Loren Warning, reporter, and Bud Whitmore, sentinel.

Some of the plaques and awards won by the Campbell chapter and its members are displayed in the winodows of the Campbell Hardware Company through the courtesy of Mr. Joseph Aghostino. The chapter also won fourth prize in the contest for food production during the war among the 196 chapters in the State.

Kiwanis Donate Wheelchairs

Enough money to purchase two wheelchairs was donated by individual members at the Kiwanis regular Tuesday luncheon. These chairs will be loaned to disabled veterans awaiting artificial limbs.

Floyd Willson, manager of the San Jose branch of Blake, Moffitt and Towne, was the speaker and guests included Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Paul Werthmann, Gus Horton and Martin Allen. Lieut. Comdr. George Lofink, originally scheduled to speak last month, will talk next Tuesday on "Surplus War Property Disbursements."

Delbert Campbell, son of Mrs. Jessie Campbell, who served as a lieutenant commander in the navy, received his discharge last month and has resumed his position as assistant superintendent of schools in Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Evans entertained on Sunday with a reception at 3 o'clock in honor of their daughter and her new husband, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Johnson, who were married in a quiet ceremony in San Mateo last Thursday evening.

Presiding at the table and assisting about the rooms were the Evans' four granddaughters from Santa Rosa, the Misses Mary Margaret, Olga Gene, Bobbette and Noelle Thompson.

The Cheerio Corner Grocery at 246 S. Winchester road, has recently been purchased from L. Applegarth, former owner, by L. Sunseri and M. Balkovic, both of San Jose, who are now operating it.

Among the recent arrivals at at Camp Swift, Texas, from the European theater of operations is T/5 Mathew Thurmon, Campbell. Sergeant Thurmon, a member of the 717th Tank Battalion, served overseas 6 months and took part in two campaigns. He wears the European theater ribbon with two battle stars.

A Campbell High graduate, the former Natalie Scimeca, returned to San Jose with her new husband, Lewis P. Musselman, following a wedding trip in Yuma, Arizona, and a tour of Southern California. The couple were married September 16th at St. Patrick's Church and will make their home in San Jose.

Robert Cassel, Campbell hero, who was liberated from a Jap prison camp and flown home last month by the navy, was the guest speaker at the Civitan Club meeting at the De Anza Hotel last week.

Chest Drive Enters Second Week

Community and war chest workers swung into their second week with reports of progress coming in slowly. Workers are compelled to go back over their territory several times in order to reach everyone. Those people not at home during the day are urged to make their contributions to Mrs. H. F. Cousins at the Campbell Water Company office.

Residents living south of the Steven's Creek road, east of Campbell Creek, west of Dry Creek and north of Mozart avenue and Barbara Lane, are in the Campbell district and should pay to Campbell solicitors.

Herbert M. Shadle, chairman, reports that to date, $409.96 has been received. This amount includes $17.00 donated by the Orchard City Grange and $77.61 from the Campbell Union High School student body. He says, "The total quota is $6750.00, so you see we have a long way to go to reach it. Let your conscience be your guide and 'give generously in victory'."

Campbell Flier Returns to Duty

After an 87-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn F. Keesling, Lieut. Walter Reynolds Keesling, U. S. Army Air Force, left on Sept. 25 for Santa Monica to report for reassignment. The young flier, pilot of a B-24 Bomber, was shot down over Austria and captured by the Germans. For many months he was a prisoner at Stalag Lufte No. 3 and later moved to Stalag 7A after the historic long march.

A prisoner for 14 months, he was liberated shortly before the end of the war and returned by boat to this country where he spent two and a half weeks in the hospital before being sent home on furlough. During the time of his imprisonment his family received word from him at fairly regular intervals but the Lieutenant waited eight months before receiving any mail.

The released time program for religious instruction began in Campbell on October 10th. Each Wednesday morning the children from the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades, who have written permission from their parents, will be eligible for this instruction between 11 a. m. and 12 noon.

The three centers will be conducted by three religious groups, the Catholic, the Congregational and Methodist Churches combined, and the Evangelical Released Time Education, Inc.

Joseph S. Chandler, radarman 3/c, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Chandler, 562 E. Campbell avenue, is now serving aboard the U. S. S. Yorktown, an aircraft carrier assigned to the Japanese occupation forces.

The Yorktown climaxed a war career of 36 major Pacific operations by standing off Japan and sending her planes over the U. S. S. Missouri, as the surrender terms were being signed.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Hyde and their children, Jerry and Kathie Sue, arrived Sunday from Burbank for a short visit with Mr. Hyde's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hyde, Alice avenue.

Hi School Ag Class Tours Processing Plants

Members of the advanced agricultural class of the high school visited three local dehydrating plants during the past week as a part of their study of dehydration.

On October 4 they visited the plant of C. J. Stojanovich on the San Jose-Los Gatos road. This unit is one of the first successful dryers built in this area and is of the Progressive direct radiation type. It has a passageway on both sides so that the prunes may be observed in all stages of drying.

W. B. Mabie, superintendent of the Oak Grove Co-Op Dryer on Downer avenue, showed them through that plant on October 9. This 12 tunnel plant was completed just before the 1945 prune season and is a direct heat type using oil as fuel.

On October 10, through the courtesy of G. K. Schrader, they toured the Campbell Co-Op Dryer, which has the largest prune dehydrator in the world. Mr. Schrader has designed a large part of this plant himself. The Oak Grove and Westside Dryers were copied from his design, which is a direct heat type burning natural gas!

The group was especially interested in a prune spreading device for traying developed by D. A. Sanders, foreman of the Campbell plant, and a hydraulic car puller which was also developed locally.

Tuesday's Kiwanis Club speaker, Floyd Willson of San Jose, dropped a remark which, when repeated to us, started an egaging chain of thought. "It's time merchants changed their attitude—the seller's market is about to end," he said.

In the midst of confusion in industry, reconversion problems of all kinds and the larger issues of peacemaking, the normal buyer, "the man in the street", and the housewife can now walk boldly into a store and ask for an item without having the clerk snap, "Don't you know there's a war on?"

Fortunately the vast majority of merchants here have been farsighted enough to have held their business by courteous treatment of customers even though they had no stock and only a very few will suffer from the vengeance of irate buyers.

Guest Editorial

In our country we rightly praise individual liberty. All rebel at the thought of someone else telling us how to worship or how to vote. Yet many have over-emphasized their rights and privileges, forgetting that they also have responsibilities. There is far too much emphasis upon everyone for himself—the traditional "dog eat dog" attitude. We must consider not only our own rights, but also the welfare of others. When war descended upon us we were suddenly shaken from our isolationist complacency and discovered the necessity of cooperating with the allied nations. Cooperation is also necessary in our personal and community relationships. In conflict the more one wins, the more others lose; in cooperation the more one wins, the more others win. We in this community have enough to do without dissipating our energies in needless quarrels. The youth projects and community activities of Campbell demand that we as individuals and as representatives of organizations cooperate. We not only have privileges and rights; we have obligations. We have the responsibility not only to be aware of our honest differences of opinion, but also of our common grounds of agreement.

Abraham Lincoln at the close of the Civil War recognized that unless the North and South were willing to find a basis of agreement and eventually cooperate the Union could not be maintained. An old lady, who was more concerned about the differences between the North and the South than the common grounds of agreement, upbraided Lincoln for his lenient attitude towards the South. "You must be ruthless," she said. Lincoln replied: "Madam, when I make friends of my enemies, do I not thereby destroy them?" When we cooperate do we not thereby destroy old enmities?

EISENHOWER AND RUSSIANS

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, a real diplomat, has been making progress toward friendship with the Russians, but got a setback the other day.

U. S. officials, entering Eisenhower's office found him despondent. He was holding a copy of Time magazine.

"Look at that," he said, "six weeks' work gone."

Eisenhower pointed to a picture of a female entertainer in a Berlin night club standing on her head, legs apart, holding a picture of Stalin between them. Time had reproduced the picture.

"And just as I was making some progress with Marshal Zhukov," Eisenhower mourned. "First he would scarcely see me. But recently we have become pretty good friends. When I go into his office he says, 'Here's to Ike.' "

Eisenhower went on to tell how Zhukov was blazing mad over the Time magazine picture. He had just come from seeing the Russian commander who had demanded:

"What are you going to do about this?"

"Nothing," replied Eisenhower.

"What! You let the American press make mockery of the marshal?" exclaimed Zhukov.

"That's what we fought the war for—the right to criticize, the right for people to say what they please," said Eisenhower.

Eisenhower went on to explain to the Russian that because one newspaper or magazine published a picture of Stalin, it did not reflect the sentiment of either the American government or the American people, and that the American government scrupulously refrained from censoring the press on matters of this kind.

However, the Russians continue to be sensitive. It is hard for them to understand the difference between a regulated press as in the Soviet and a free press as in the U. S. A.

NEW SUPREME COURT JUSTICE

President Truman really let his hair down with Senator Burton when he called him in last week to tell him he was being nominated to the Supreme Court.

Catching Burton just before the Ohio senator was about to leave for Cincinnati, Truman told him that he had actually promised the Supreme Court job to another man, Robert Patterson, now Secretary of War, but changed his mind.

"Harold," said Truman at the start of the interview, "I've made up my mind to appoint you to the Supreme Court.

"You were always my first choice," Truman continued, "but I had some vacillations. I considered appointing Phillips of Denver, Parker of North Carolina and Patterson.

"Finally I decided to appoint Patterson and told him I was going to appoint him."

Truman then explained that it was better to leave Patterson in the War Department to replace Stimson as Secretary of war.

"One of the things that disturbed me about your appointment," Truman continued, "was the probable claim that I might be playing politics in order to get a Democratic senator from Ohio." (Truman had in mind the fact that Governor Lausche of Ohio, a Democrat, now can appoint a Democratic senator to replace Burton, a Republican.)

"So I talked it over with Alben Barkley," Truman explained, "and he advised that if I was convinced you were the right man, I should appoint you and let political consequences go hang."

Note — Truman had picked up Senaotor Barkley at Paducah, Ky., the evening before and flown him back to Washington in his special plane, at which time they had conferred regarding the Burton appointment. Truman, incidentally, sems to be leaning more and more on sage, experienced Barkley for advice.

Hospitals Ask for Assistance

Hospitals all over America need help, according to William P. Butler, manager of San Jose Hospital, who is appealing to women trained as nurses and nurses' aides to help meet the present emergency.

The acute shortage of nursing personnel is caused largely by the fact that 65,000 graduate registered nurses are caring for sick and wounded servicemen and that nearly twice as many registered nurses are employed by industry as before the war, plus the fact that higher incomes have made hospital care financially possible for many who could not previously afford it.

According to a recent survey made by the American Hospital Association, 23 percent of the nation's hospitals have had to close beds because of insufficient personnel. Because of the emergency, operations are now being scheduled for months ahead and the date book at the San Jose Hospital shows operation room reservations made for far into December.

Not only is there a shortage of nurses and nurses' aides, but of auxiliary personnel such as laundry worker's, chefs, janitors, hospital helpers of all kinds.

The next few months will be the critical point in hospital service, with conditions gradually bettering as nurses return to peace-time duty, the U. S. Public Health Service estimates. Until then, inactive graduate registered nurses and nurses in private "luxury" nursing are urged to help meet the emergency.

The general public, too, can help, Manager Butler pointed out, by aiming to keep well, to postpone hospitalization if the doctor thinks it can wait, and if ill, to abide by the doctor's advice as to the need for special nursing care.

Jack Murdock returned early yesterday morning from Pasadena, where he had driven his mother and aunt to attend the funeral of his uncle, Jack Richardson. His mother who lives in Georgetown, and his aunt from Healdsburg, were unable to find any transportation to the Southern city. Murdock will meet them in Tulare on Saturday and drive them home.

Camp Fire Girls Committee Meets

The Extension Committee of the Santa Clara County Camp Fire Girls' Council met last week in the new Camp Fire headquarters in the Security Building, San Jose. Those attending were chairman, Mrs. Sanborn Young and Mrs. Sewall Brown of Los Gatos, Miss Helen Stray of Campbell, Miss Philoma Goldsworthy of San Jose, Mrs. Maude Empey, president of the Council, and Miss Lois Young, county executive.

The importance of continuing leadership at this time was stressed for according to the speakers even tho adults are exhausted from their war efforts, children keep right on growing and needing help just as much even tho the war is over.

An unidentified assailant attacked and robbed Ernest Martin last week as he was walking from the center of town to his home on Bennett Way. According to the sheriff's office the strong arm burglar made away with $75 in cash and Martin was unable to describe him.

Mrs. G. E. Tutt, Campbell, received $50 reward for returning the brief case, containing $115, which she found, to its owner, Roy George, a haberdasher in San Jose.

Ray Stockbridge and Luther Reese, both of Campbell, were slightly injured when a car driven by Ray's brother, Edward C. Stockbridge, Campbell radio repairman, missed a turn on Hack's road last Sunday night and upset.

A new class organized under hte jurisdiction of the Adult Education Classes is a woodworking one to be called the "Wood Shop", which will meet on Monday and Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 at the High School beginning October 15.

The other two classes are folk dancing on Tuesday evenings and sewing on Thursdays. All of these are open to the public and more classes will be started whenever enough interest in a given subject warrants the organization.

James H. Hoskins, Campbell, who is an aviation machinist's mate, 1/c, is now flight engineer aboard a B-29 Marauder target-towing plane based on Guam. His wife and daughter live in Campbell and his mother, Mrs. Inez Pendleton, lives in San Luis Obispo.

Two new water lines are being laid by the Campbell Water Company, one for the Ainsley Corporation on Poplar street to serve the Dos Palos Tract, and the other on N. Second from Minna to Latimer streets, serving the Oliver Jensen Tract.

Private Diana A. Meek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schluter, 94 Alice avenue, has completed training in the Army Clerks' School of the First Women's Army Corps Training Center in Fort Des Moines.

Technical training courses include clerks courses where members acquire a thorough knowledge of military office routine and maintenance of Army records. Other courses include typing, leadership and the Cooks course, where members of the WAC learn to prepare food, cut meat and bake the Army way.

Describes France In Reconstruction

Mme. Denise Davey, who has just returned from France, is on a California lecture tour describing the need for food and clothing as her nation rebuilds its lives and its cities, partly with funds provided by the local War Chest.

Support The Community Chest!..

A picture of France, a tired France facing the tremendous task of reconstruction of her cities and the rehabilitation of her people is painted by Mme. Denise Davey, a director of American Relief in France, Inc.

Mme Davey has just begun a tour of speaking engagements in California which mark the beginning of a nationwide lecture tour on behalf of the War Chest, which numbers Relief for France among the agencies it supports.

She told reporters of the things she had seen in her native country which she left by plane late in August. She emphasized that her organization of course does not expect America to feed and clothe France, but she seeks only to provide minimum urgent needs of the people. She pointed out that no American government agency is providing relief for France.

Her people, as late as August, she said above all were fatigued, "You see them on crowded subways sitting with their faces drawn. There is malnutrition—the average person gets about 1500 calories a day, less than half the required number".

There is a great lack of clothing, and "when the people talk about the coming winter, their faces change. They are afraid of it. They remember the last one."

Tuberculosis is a presing problem, she said, particularly among the deportees who are coming back "They seem normal when they first return," she said, "and then suddenly theycollapse weakened by stomach and intestinal ailments caused by long months of bad food and very little of that."

The cities, particularly the coast cities, she said, will have to be destroyed completely before they can be rebuilt. "What can you do with one wall left standing here and there? Harbors and docks are destroyed, transportation is bad, and all over is evidence that the Germans used the American Red Cross for protection. "I found one submarine base completely intact. It had enormous red crosses painted on it."

But in the ruins of the once proud cities, "suddenly you will come upon a completely untouched statue of Jean d' Arc or the Christ in the midst of ruins, like a symbol of the still upright spirit of France itself."

It isfor these people and others making its October appeal. The ned for surgical, and particularly, dental instruments, is great, as well as shoes, clothes and food. The funds given to the War Chest will help to finance a program being started in France to give undernourished children milk and cereal that will fill out hollows in their cheeks and bring the sparkle back to their eyes.

Mme Davey, wife of an officer inthe French Air Corps, has been active in relief work both abroad and in the United States, founding ing in New York in 1940 the Fighting French Relief Committee. This later merged with other groups working for France to become the American Relief for France, of which Mme Davey is unit director.

Miss Lois Bachman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bachman, who recently returned from Troutdale In the Pines, Colorado, where she worked during the summer has left again to accept a position at Pine Inn, Carmel, for the winter.

Her brother, Milton (Buddy) Buchman and his wife, will return Sunday to Campbell after a visit with Mrs. Bachman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strieff, in San Diego.

"I'M the kid from next door who's keeping watch over Germany. I've got a buddy in Tokyo. We're both a long way from home. We get kind of low sometimes. But we'd get a lot lower if it weren't for the U.S.O. Camp Shows."

Don't turn your back on me.

"I'm a widow down the street with two service stars in my window. Besides worrying about my boys overseas, I've somehow got to give my other children the decent, healthy life they deserve. It would be pretty tough if it weren't for my home-town relief agency."

Don't turn your back on me.

"I'm a merchant seaman. I've hit some tough ports in my time, but nothing like the ratholes I've seen in the last few years. But just making a port is okay when there's something there to remind me of home. Something like the United Seamen's Service."

Don't turn your back on me.

"They call me a 'displaced person'. I guess that's American for someone whose home is rubble and whose family has been worked to a tortured death in a Nazi sweatshop. I hope Allied Relief gets around to me."

Don't turn your back on me.

The dollars you give to your local War Chest help all of these, and more.

Somewhere—from the depths of spirit and pocketbook—Americans met every appeal made in the war. We can't stop now. We can't turn our backs on human suffering.

Give generously. There was never a greater cause.

PRACTICE GAME

The Campbell Buccaneers started the season off with a practice game with Salinas on October 5. The Bucs showed good spirits, and tried many comebacks, but still lost, 28 to 6, to Salinas.

The reason, we think, was because Salinas had all their last year's string except one, who is now in the service, while we had only one man left from last year's string.

BUCC'S FIRST LEAGUE GAME

Well the Bucc's are raring to go on their first league game. The big event is scheduled for October 12, and will be played on Fremont's turf. Let's wish them luck.

CHEER LEADERS

There was a student body rally Tuesday for try outs for cheer leaders, and the elections will take place today.

Also at the rally Mr. Trinia introduced the new fight song. The title is "Red and Blue". Barbara Ratti, Charles Neel, and Velma Zimmer led the new song in the rally. The band has ben practicing very hard, and will be at the Fremont game pulling for our side.

"The Only Girl" To Be At San Jose Auditorium

Next stage attraction for San Jose and Campbell under the Denny-Watrous management is Victor Herbert's "The Only Girl", the sparkling musical comedy which has thrilled lovers of light opera since the turn of the century. Christina Carrol, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will be starred, with a supporting Broadway cast of singers and dancers.

Second attraction of the San Jose Concert Series is the famous and always popular Original Don Cossack Chorus, with the diminutive Serge Jaroff conducting. With a million miles of touring behind them, these organ-voiced Russians never fail to arouse their devoted audiences to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

Tickets for both events are now on sale at the Denny-Watrous box office, San Jose Auditorium.

The mik bottle shortage is serious. it was stated today by secretary Harvey L. Hansen of the Santa Clara County Milk Dealer's Association. Factories are three to four months behind on their orders to deliver milk botles to the dealers, and there sems to be no immediate relief from this situation. According to the information that Hansen has received from the factories, the conditions are not improving, presumably due to the shortage of skilled manpower. This makes every milk bottle important to the public if they are to continue to get regular supplies of milk. Markets and grocery stores can only obtain the quantity of milk for which they return empty bottles day by day. Hansen urges all citizens to return botles promptly to their dairy delivery man or to the stores, and further to clean out any backlog that they may have in there homes by seeing that they are delivered to the scource from which they obtained their milk. The same applies to hotels, restaurants, and Cafes.

Full cooperation on the part of the public will help to solve this serious problem in which the health of the community is involved.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Nelson, 47 Dillon have received the following interesting letter from their son, Philip, Radio Man 2/c, U. S. N. who was attending Campbell High school at the time he entered the service three years ago. He serves aboard the U. S. S. Chandeleur.

Well this is it. We landed here about four days ago and I have'nt been able to drop you a line until now. It was a long and boring ride from Eniwetok to here. As yet we have'nt ben able to get on the beach for liberty but we expect to before we leave for God's country.

We arrived here on a Saturday and the surrender was signed on Sunday. So you see there is'nt anything half way about this deal. This place (Ominato Anchorage, Japan) is on the northern tip of Japan, between the islands of Honshu and Hokkaido. This place is on Honshu island. A place called Aomori Bay. The only Japs I have seen so far are some that came along side on a trash lighter with Marines for guards.

The word is that we'll be in the States in the latter part of October or the first part of November. That's the best news I've heard for a long time. This is the real thing too. So stand by for me coming home. I guess you know how I feel now. I fei like a new man and am very much looking forward to coming home. We will probably get 25 or 30 days leave out of this trip. I hope so. I'm looking forward very much to seeing you all.

Well, when we left Okinawa, after it was secured, they sent in a letter about me making first class and I have'nt heard anything about it since. It has to go to Guam and then back to the ship. I'm still waiting on the letter now. I sure am anxious to see the outcome, whether I make it or not I mean.

Oh yes, the most important thing I almost forgot to tell you. The censorship regulations are lifted. That's all there aint no more censorship. We can tell everything but the operations of the ships.

"THE WHITE TOWER" by James Ramsey Ullman.

The tides of war have left a strange human flotsam in neutral Switzerland. And in remote Kandermatt there are six oddly-assorted people who desire above all else to climb the White Tower. The White Tower raises its savage and sublime immensity of rock and snow and ice high above a Europe torn by war and hate. In bygone years of peace this great mountain challenged the most experienced climbers of every nation — and none who tried the ascent from the Alpine valley of Kandermatt had ever succeeded.

Despite (or because of?) the dangers surrounding the mountain, these six oddly-assorted people desire to climb its rugged slope—each for a private reason of his own. Andreas Benner, the Swiss guide who has lived all his life in its shadow, has dreamed from earliest boyhood of making the terrible ascent which cost his father's life. His is the least complicated reason. Nicholas Radcliffe, the English geologist, was in his younger days a great climber. High on Everest he had watched Mallory and Irvine disappear forever in that dark cloud just below the summit cone. To him the White Tower symbolizes the high adventure of his lost youth. To Paul Delambre, the Frenchman, the mountain is an escape from dilettantism into the reality of action, a chance to live for once outside the mirror of himself. For Siegfried Hein, the conquest of the great snow peak represents another triumph for the Third Reich and racial superiority.

But what of Martin Ordway, the American bomber pilot whose presence in Kandermatt is baffling even to himself? Why is it that he cannot return to the war he has left involuntarily without first pitting his hard-tried courage against the White Tower? And what it is out of her haunted past that impels Carla, the Viennese girl, to join Martin in his assault upon that lofty citadel? Of these and many other things, including love and death, the reader learns as he lives through this superb account of an epic adventure.

The award of the Distinguished Flying Cross has been awarded to Major Henry D. Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert H. Wagner, 1124 Cherry Ave.,San Jose. The award was granted for his piloting of a medium bomber in a low-level attack on a heavily defended harbor on the China Coast. He is a graduate of the San Jose State Junior College. His wife, Margaret, and their 6-months-old daughter, Barbara Lee, make their home in San Mateo.

Monday afternoon's session of the Country Woman's Club was devoted to Red Cross work. After a short business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Carl Field, the members adjourned to the Red Cross hall where sewing machines were available for general Red Cross sewing. Committee chairman was Mrs. D. B. Pressler assisted by Mesdames R. L. Nelson, E. J. Bohnett and C. N. Grizzle. The next meeting of the club will be held on October 15th, when Mrs. W. J. Higginbotham will be the speaker of the afternoon with Mrs. S. L. Selig as chairman.

Walt Hill, Campbell High coach, was pleased particularly with the play of Wayne Buck, Dick Gouley, Billy Hill, Mac Martin and Reg Gazay in the Friday night game against Salinas High School which the "Lettuce City" team won by a score of 27-6.

A demonstration in checking food values in the daily diet and the relationship of diet, weight, and health, will be held Wednesday, October 17th, from 10 to 12 at the First Methodist Church.

Classes are under the supervision of Mrs. Winifred Jecker of the Extension Department and sponsored by the Campbell High P. T. A. unit under the chairmanship of Mrs. Henry Jensen.

Anyone interested is cordially invited to these classes which are always open to the public.

The first meeting of the Cambrian Home and School Club was held Wednesday, October 3rd, in the school auditorium with Mrs. Helen Doerr, president presiding. Activities for the coming year were discussed and the meeting date was changed from the first Wednesday to the first Thursday of every month. Refreshments were served by the executive board.

First Lieut. William S. Markham, Honolulu, pilot of a B29 in the U. S. Army Air Force, is scheduled to arrive on Monday on leave and will visit at the home of his cousin, Mrs. H. Carman, San Jose-Los Gatos road. The Lieutenant was among those who piloted planes over the U. S. S. Missouri, during the signing of the surrender papers.

We believe the present emergency will continue for several months and that we will be forced to close more rooms unless Graduate Nurses can be obtained for the evening and night shifts (both shifts receive additional remuneration).

The acutely sick and injured in the community need Nursing Service and we appeal to all Graduate Nurses in the valley, who are not in Nursing Service at this time, to assist in meeting the present emergency. There are also permanent positions open for Nurses who want regular employment.

Classes for paid NURSES' AIDES are now forming. There are also openings for laundry workers, kitchen help and men and women with various other skills.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" This question is the subject for the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, with the Golden Text from Isaiah: "Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnites: . . . The inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity" (33: 20, 24).

The following citations are from the sermon:

Psalms 68:20: "He that is our God is the God of salvation; and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death."

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Now is the time for so-called material pains nad material pleasures to pass away, for both are unreal, because impossible in Science" (p. 39).

Many returning veterans are going into business for themselves for the first time . Some are men who have never been an employer of labor before. These individuals are reminded that any new employer should file an application with the Social Security Board for an identification number for the business. This is necesary even tho only one person is on the payroll, and perhaps works only part time. Each employer is required to keep a record of the workers social security account number for use when it comes time to make out the social security tax return to the collector of internal revenue.

New employers may secure identification numbers either by calling at the San Jose office which is located at rom 204 Post Office Building or by writing this ofice for application forms SS-4.

Needs of China In Victory Told

Liu Liang-Mo, former Chinese Army morale officer, is on a lecture tour describing needs of Chinese, with millions homeless and orphaned. He speaks for United China Relief, one of the agencies supported by contributions to the local War Chest.

The story of Japanese prisoners captured by Chinese, converted to the belief that Japan's war was hopeless and broadcasting Chinese propaganda to Japanese troops was told in San Francisco recently.

Liu Liang-Mo, who was for three years a morale officer in the Chinese army, described the system at a press conference in the office of the California War Chest. Mr. Liu is now on a speaking tour on behaif of United China relief, one of the agencies supported by the War Chest campaign.

As a morale officer, Liu and his group in addition talked to and gradually convinced a considerable number of Japanese prisoners that the war had been the result of machinations of war lords, that the Japanese people themselves were suffering, that eventually the entire world would be against Japan and the Japs were therefore fighting a hopeless war. The Jap prisoners then broadcast, both by radio and over loudspeakers at the front, to the Japanese troops.

Liu told of vast needs that China now faces with the victory. Liberation has uncovered 150 million persons in need of assistance toward rehabilitation. Roaming in China today are 50 million refuges. More than 2,000,000 children have been orphaned.

United China Relief, a combination of six agencies each with its own special field, is seeking to relieve the suffering of these millions. Californians are making their contribution to this work through the California War Chest and the National War Fund. Liu emphasized that the Chest's $22,000,000 goal encompasses. besides China relief, the needs of American service men at home and abroad through USO, the needs of other foreign war victims, and the needs of California communities through their own local agencies.

And so another week has gone, and thousands of weekly newspaper editors can say, "Thank God, another issue is off the press." For while the plush city editor with white shirt, can wait in his office for the first paper off the press to be brought to him, the little country editor is cursing in grime as he feeds the paper into his own hand fed press. There's nothing automatic about it, except trouble.

Yet the tribute of a free press goes more to the little country weekly than to the bigtime daily with its million dollar presses.The weekly is one of the few papers today where it does'nt quite take a millionaire to buy in, and having bought in the little man knows there's something of the free press left because he'll be the first in that class to go. But that day does'nt have to come.

Yet lest we be accused of going overboard for our prejudiced cause, we'll retire to the sanctum of our backshop pressroom, with the muffled prayer, "Please, God, don't let the press break down this week."

Fleet To Be Welcomed

San Francisco's "welcome home to the fleet" will be observed during the entire week of October 21-28, according to plans announced today by Ernest Ingold, chairman of the San Francisco Navy Day Committee.

"This year's tribute to our Navy is significant for being the first peacetime Navy Day celebration since the end of the war," declared Ingold, "and will stress the theme of gratitude and thankfulness for the safe return of our fleet and pride in its accomplishments."

Highlighting the week of Navy Day functions will be a luncheon scheduled to be held Friday, October 26, at the Commercial Club and featuring as speaker Artemus L. Gates, Undersecretary of Navy. Sponsors of the event are the San Francisco Chameber of Commerce. Navy League of the United States, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Propelier Club, Marine Exchange and Commercial Club.

Other functions slated for that week include a blimp parade, two Navy Day Balls, an air regatta, memorial services, open house aboard ships and exhibits held at the Civic Center and Treasure Island.

Methodists Hold Anniversary Meet

The Methodist Church of Campbell is observing an anniversary in the life of the church. Fifty-five years ago the first quarterly conference was held in Campbell, with Rev. Thomas B. Hopkins presiding. On October 4, 1890, this meeting elected a board of trustees "to secure a lot and take steps toward the erection of a house of worship". The first quarterly conference marked the official beginning of the Methodist Church in Campbell, although the work had been started two years before that time, in 1888, by Rev. G. W. Beatty, who was the pastor of the Los Gatos Methodist Church.

Pedro Gomez, Hawthorne Ranch, was cited for reckless driving and driving an auto without an operator's license following a collision in San Jose last week which sent Mrs. Gordon H. Snow, passenger in the car struck by Gomez, to the San Jose Hospital.

"Junior Miss", which was a sell out on Broadway for two years, then made into a motion picture, is booked to be shown here October 14 to 16. It has a fine cast, headed by Peggy Ann Garner and Allyn Joselyn. It is a family comedy, presenting the awkward attempts of a 13-year-old trying to take her place among the adult world.

Our local theatre will be bringing you many other fine pictures this month. These include "Don Juan Quilligan," a comedy with William Bendix; "Kismet," "A Medal for Benny," starring Dorothy Lamour and Arturo de Cordova; the great drama "Back to Bataan," with John Wayne and others.

The playing dates for the preceding pictures will appear weekly in the local paper.

The Campbell Camp Fire Girls' Council announces the following groups leaders: Horizon Club—Mrs. Paul Becker; 8th grade—Mrs. Don Sevrens; 7th grade—Mrs. M. Lobrovitch and Miss Marilyn Lobrovitch; 6th grade—Mrs. Frank Richardson; 5th grade—Mrs. G. K. Schrader; 4th grade Bluebirds—Mrs. F. B. Fossum; 3rd grade Bluebirds—Mrs. B. C. Rappe and Mrs. Hans Hansen.

"Camp Fire membership is limited only by the lack of leadership," it was stated by the Council. "Campbell needs more women who will give their time and energy to leadership of groups so that every girl who wishes to join may do so."

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Industrial Center of the New Pacific World

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA gateway to a billion new customers
How big will our Pacific Market really be?
Economists estimate that America's trade with the billion people who live around the great Pacific Basin can amount to at least seven billion dollars a year...more than double what it did before the war.
The Dutch East Indies, for example, are planning to spend close to two and a half billion dollars for the rehabilitation of their islands. China is making arrangements to buy 300 million dollars worth of heavy machinery. Russia is reported to have earmarked 10 billion dollars to be spent over a 10-year period.
With an eye to these and other expanded markets in Latin America, the Philippines, Australia, Hawaii and our own Western states, 176 firms opened manufacturing plants in Northern California during the first six months of 1945.
For here is the geographical, industrial and financial center of the new Pacific World. Here are the deep-water ports, the cheap power and fuel, the highly-skilled labor pool. Here are tremendous timber, oil and mineral resources. Here, or nearby, are plants capable of producing vast quantities of magnesium, aluminum and steel.
If your business is looking West, investigate the advantages of Northern California. The Pacific Gas and Electric Company will help you in every way possible.
